Switch-on for Christmas countdown

WITNEY'S Christmas tree is all set for the big switch-on tomorrow, November 27.

The town is hosting a Christmas lights switch-on celebration between 5.30pm and 8pm with stalls and live music.

Mayor of Witney Jim King will be doing the honours to turn on the town's Christmas lights in Market Square at 6.30pm.

The event is supported by Witney Town Council and organised by Witney Rotary Club, Witney Lions and Witney Round Table.

Company goes under 'owing over £100,000'

A WITNEY company which allegedly owes more than £100,000 to West Oxfordshire District Council and 12 others has gone into liquidation, according to Government business register Companies House.

Abacus Events was the company which revived Witney Trade Fair in The Leys in September last year, the first to be held in the town since 2005.

Companies House lists Abacus Events as based in Wessex Industrial Estate, Avenue Three in Station Lane, and its managing director as Christopher Clinkard.

WODC says it obtained a liability order last year to force Abacus to pay its dues through court proceedings.

Council (WODC) cabinet member for resources, Richard Langridge, said: "Abacus Events owed the council in excess of £16,000 in unpaid business rates.

"The council was supported in a petition by twelve other interested parties who also claimed debts owing by Abacus Events of in excess of £100,000."

He added: "Attempts by enforcement agents to collect the arrears owed by the company were unsuccessful and therefore, the council, in order to protect the interest of tax

Chancellor announces Didcot Enterprise Zone

By Alex Ballinger

A NEW enterprise zone to boost business through cash incentives is to be created for Didcot, Chancellor of the Exchequer George Osborne announced yesterday in his Autumn Statement.

The 'Enterprise Zone' would become Oxfordshire's second, and cover 95 hectares in total north-west of Didcot, the size of 131 football pitches.

Some is of the land is currently greenfield, some is the site of part of the former Didcot A Power Station, and some is land by the A34 Milton Interchange.

An Enterprise Zone means companies can get tax discounts by moving there and pay their business rates to district councils, who then have to invest it in the local area - rather than the money going to central Government.

Didcot was one of 26 new UK Enterprise Zones named in Mr Osborne's annual statement.

Leader of Vale of White Horse District Council Matthew Barber said: "It's great news. It means we get to keep all the business rates to put back into infrastructure for businesses in the area.

"Because we know where the money will be going it means we can use it to secure loans.

"I think we're the only district in the country to have two Enterprise Zones."

Oxfordshire's first is Science Vale UK, set up in April 2012 encompassing Harwell Milton Park and Culham Science Park.

In Science Vale businesses can save up to £55,000 a year over five years because of tax discounts.

Since Enterprise Zones were introduced in April 2012 the Government says they have attracted over £2.2 billion in private sector investment and created 19,000 jobs nationwide.

Business rates are a tax charged on non-domestic properties like shops, offices pubs and warehouses.

During a speech at Parliament Mr Osborne said: "The Government is creating 26 new Enterprise Zones, including expanding eight zones on the current programme.

"These include 15 zones in smaller towns and rural areas spreading Enterprise Zone benefits to 108 sites across the country."

Of the 95 hectares, 91 hectares fall into Vale of White Horse District Council and four hectares fall into South Oxfordshire District Council.

South Oxfordshire District Council leader John Cotton said: "We need to spend on infrastructure to support existing residents and those moving into the new houses we're getting.

"The Enterprise Zone will mean more ready access to the cash we need."

The zone will be set up after the area is formally designated but no date has been set.

Discount shop fined £16,000 for mouse infestation

A BARGAIN store in Wantage has been fined £16,000 after environmental health officers found an 'extensive' mouse infestation and food contaminated with urine and faeces.

Family Bargains in Kings

Walk, Limbrough Road, was reported to Vale of White Horse District Council on February 5 after a mouse was seen in the shop.

Environmental health officers visited that day and found three live mice nesting on a storage area.

Owners 99p Stores Ltd pleaded guilty at Oxford Magistrates' Court on Monday to four breaches of The Food Safety and Hygiene Regulations.

Vale's cabinet member for environmental health Roger Cox said: "Shop owners have a responsibility to ensure that their premises are safe and hygienic.

"By allowing an infestation to take place the store put customers at risk and that simply isn't acceptable."

After the complaint the store stopped selling food and drink until the infestation was removed.

Checks on February 13 confirmed the infestation had gone.

In court the company was fined £16,000; £4,000 for each offence - and ordered to pay £2,413.75 in costs and a victim surcharge of £120.

150 years of Alice

OXON: Today marks the 150th anniversary of the publication of Lewis Carroll's classic children's tale Alice's Adventures in Wonderland.

Carroll, whose real name was Charles Dodgson, began telling the tale of Alice to the real life 10-year-old Alice Liddell on the Isis river in Folly Bridge Oxford, three years before the publication.

It was first published by Macmillan on November 26 1865.

Black Friday sales

OXON: Bicester Village designer shopping outlet has pledged it will not be holding Black Friday sales tomorrow despite extending opening hours.

The first Friday after Thanksgiving is one of the biggest sale shopping days of the year and is traditionally an American tradition.

UK shoppers spent £800 million last year and roads surrounding Bicester Village were gridlocked by traffic badly.

Value Retail which runs Bicester Village said they are not participating. But opening hours have been extended from 9am until 9pm to 7am to Midnight tomorrow.

Shoppers are expected to spend about £1 billion this year.

Court re-trial

OXFORD: A traveller family from Redbridge Hollow caravan park are set to be re-tried for conspiring to require a man with learning difficulties to perform forced labour.

Christopher Joyce, 81, Mary Joyce, 60, and Helen Collins, 45, were found guilty of conspiring to defraud Nicholas Iliff, 51, of £139,000 in benefits and were found not guilty of conspiring to hold Mr Iliff in servitude.

However, a jury could not reach a verdict on conspiracy to require Mr Iliff to perform forced labour.

The re-trial is due to commence on June 6, 2016.

Oxford Open Uni strike

STAFF from Oxford's Open University (OU) site are set to walk-out next week to protest the closure of centres that could result in 500 job losses nationwide.

The OU's governing council body confirmed on Tuesday they would be going ahead with planned closures of seven centres across the country, to be replaced by three larger student support centres.

The University and College Union's Open University branch president, Pauline Collins said: "It is deeply disappointing that the university has chosen to push ahead with these widely criticized plans.

"The closures are opposed by staff, students, former students and politicians.

"Nobody wants to take strike action, but we have now been left with no alternative."

Oxford's regional Open University centre in Boar's Hill is one of the sites set to close and staff are planned to strike on Wednesday.

A petition against the closures has gathered over 6,400 signatures.

Vice-chancellor of the Open University, Peter Horrocks, said: "This is an important decision for the university and its students as it means we can now introduce much-needed improvements to our student support services - something which simply isn't possible across dispersed, smaller offices."

Witney charity launches £20,000 Christmas quest

A CHARITY set up in 1998 in memory of a 19-year-old Witney woman who died in Zambia has launched their 2015 Christmas campaign with the hope of raising £20,000.

Cecily's Fund, based in Witney's Church Green, provides education for young people in Zambia and have so far paid for school fees for over 82,000 children since it was started. The charity are now calling on residents to take part in the Christmas challenge by fundraising in any way they can.

The charity's director Cheryl Hooper said: "Every year we run a Christmas campaign to support young people in schools in Zambia. We've been running the campaign for about five years.

"For me it's about changing children's lives. Around half the population of Zambia are under 18.

"Education for them is a way out of poverty."

Cecily's Fund was founded after 19-year-old Cecily Eastwood died in a car crash while volunteering at an orphanage in Zambia in 1997.

Her parents Alison and Basil Eastwood decided to continue the type of charity work started by their daughter, who grew up in Stonesfield, near Woodstock. The £20,000 the charity is hoping to raise between December 1 and 14 would pay for 450 children to go to school for a year.

One of the charities supporters Angela Knapp, 62, has organised music events and quizzes to raise money for Cecily's fund.

The musician from Wheatley said: "Cecily's parents are the reason I'm involved. They're lovely people.

"You see what work is going on and that's really stimulating. You can see the results."

Ms Knapp said two quizzes she held in the passed raised

£1,000 each for the charity and said she is considering holding another event in the coming months.

Programmes and fundraising support officer at the charity Lucas Bramwell said: "Cecily's Fund has been incredibly grateful to receive fantastic support from the Oxfordshire community, who make up over a quarter of our individual donors.

"We have received over £600,000 from local donors since we were established in 1998."

The charity is the largest non-governmental provider of education in Zambia and work in the country's two biggest cities, the capital Lusaka and second largest city Kitwe.

WODC ordered 'winding up' of Witney company

payers, sought an order winding up of the company in early 2015.

"While Abacus events attended the initial court hearing in July 2015 they did not defend the action in October 2015."

The Oxfordshire Guardian approached Mr Clinkard for comment.

He referred us to the Insolvency Service – a Government agency that supports people affected by financial stress or failure and investigates companies that have gone into liquidation.

Spokesperson for the Insolvency Service, Ade Daramy, said: "I can confirm Abacus Events Limited, registered office: Unit 1, Wessex Industrial Estate, Station Lane, Witney, OX28 4BT is now in liquidation following a winding-up order made on October 16, 2015.

"The official receiver and liquidator is Graham Rogers. He can be contacted at the Insolvency Service, 3D Apex Plaza, Forbury Road, Reading, RG1 1AX, email: Reading.OR@insolvency.gsi.gov.uk.

"The matter is in its early stages and the official receiver as liquidator will investigate the causes of the company's failure and interview the company's officers as part of that investigation. As such, he would welcome any information relating to this to be provided to him at the above address.

"A significant part of the liquidator's duties involve tracing and realising any assets and distributing funds to those creditors who have lodged proofs of a debt. This can only happen if there are any assets."

Baby's death a mystery despite three inquiries

Fly-tipping man traced by dumped address

A TRADESMAN caught fly-tipping for the second time was traced by an address found in one of the boxes dumped in a country lane near Witney.

Freddie Fuller, from Alderley Close in Carterton, was fined more than £1,400 after pleading guilty to fly-tipping rubbish, carrying it without a waste carrier's license and disposing of commercial waste incorrectly.

The 32-year-old was fined £650, ordered to pay £732.98 in costs and a £35 victim's surcharge at Banbury Magistrates' Court on Friday, November 20.

Fuller was previously ordered to pay West Oxfordshire District Council (WODC) £300 for a similar fly-tipping offence.

WODC cabinet member for environment David Harvey said: "Fly-tipping is illegal, irresponsible and costly to the council. I am particularly pleased that we have tracked down a repeat offender and hope this time the message that we will not hesitate to prosecute is clear to him and other potential law breakers."

Council enforcement officers found the dumped waste at three places in a lane between Alvescot and Shilton near Witney in January.

After tracing the rubbish back to its owner the officers found she had paid Fuller £80 to remove it from her garage.

Cllr Harvey added: "A note of caution for all householders too, is they should make sure any one removing waste from their property is registered with the Environment Agency, otherwise they too are breaking the law."

WHY a 20-month-old baby died remains a mystery despite three separate investigations by three different pathologists, an inquest heard in Oxford on Tuesday.

Samuel Oliver Henry Barlow, of Ouse Close in Didcot, died at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital on April 12 this year after his mum found he was not breathing while checking on him in the early hours of the morning.

Oxfordshire Coroner Darren Salter recorded an open conclusion at an inquest into his death at Oxfordshire Coroner's Court in New Road.

Guidelines state the verdict is used as a last resort when the coroner cannot reach a conclusion.

Mr Salter said: "Even though they are not here I offer my condolences to Samuel's family after their loss."

"The medical cause of death is uncertain."

The inquest heard Samuel's mum Frances Barlow took him to Oak Tree

By Alex Ballinger

Health Centre in Didcot on April 8 because he had a 'wheezy cough', and his dad Ian Barlow took him to the same GPs surgery two days later.

He was prescribed an inhaler, antibiotics and steroids to treat a chest infection.

A statement from Mrs Barlow, summarised by Mr Salter, said: "She awoke and could not hear the wheezing any more. She thought it might have got better. She went to see him and realised he was not breathing."

Emergency services were called at around 1.30am and Samuel was taken to hospital by ambulance, but died at 2.33am.

Investigations into the cause of death by forensic pathologist Jan Kolar, paediatric pathologist Darren Fowler and consultant neuropathologist Safa Al-Sarraj could not find a cause of death.

Dr Kolar said in a statement: "It's possible he suffered from a febrile seizure. I can't be certain of the cause of death."

"In my opinion the medical cause of death has to be recorded as unascertained."

Hospitals' £14.8m heat pipe comes under fire

• The heat pipe being laid within the grounds of John Radcliffe Hospital (picture courtesy of Tony Turton)

AN 18-month, £14.8 million project to build an energy pipe between Oxford's John Radcliffe and Churchill hospitals has come under criticism from nearby residents.

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust announced the project on Friday ahead of a press conference next week.

The project, to improve the heating and hot water systems that supply both hospitals, includes laying a pipe between the two sites in Headington over 1.3 miles.

The Trust said it would not release any more information about the project until the conference next week.

By Loughlan Campbell

Trust spokesman Francine Rodrigues said: "The project is critical to ensure that energy systems at both hospitals are flexible enough to meet future growing demands for heating and hot water as hospital patient numbers increase, and facilities expand and improve."

"The new systems will offer both hospitals better resilience and less reliance on the national power grid in the high demand months of winter, reduce energy costs as well as reduce carbon emissions from both sites."

Headington blogger Tony Turton said in a post: "It's a shame the Trust has chosen not to talk to the people who live in or near the areas affected - Sandfield, Latimer, All Saints and Stapleton Roads."

"The trouble is no-one knows. I expect these issues can be resolved, but while the Trust remain silent rumours will circulate and anxiety will grow."

The Trust is carrying out the project with Blackburn-based contractors Vital Energi, who are expected to present the scope of the project, the funding for it and technical specifications next Monday.

Oxford city councillor for Headington, Mohammed Altaf-Khan, said: "We're in the dark about it all and it's something they have got to be more open with us about, we're not even sure if they performed an environmental impact assessment."

"They absolutely should have spoken to us or better yet, made the residents aware of it in some way before they suddenly spring it upon us."

"It would have reduced a great deal of concern."

Didcot teenager plays Mrs Claus to local charities

A DIDCOT teenager is loading up her present sack for the fourth year to deliver gifts to a variety of Oxfordshire charities in time for Christmas.

Courtney Hughes, 17, gathers hundreds of presents donated each year before wrapping and delivering them to the county's ill, elderly and homeless.

Last year the charity Mrs Claus delivered over 1,000 presents.

Courtney, a nursing assistant at Sobell House Hospice in Oxford, said: "This is my fourth year. I do it in memory of my Nan.

"She loved Christmas and she was always the person handing out presents and pulling the first cracker. "It was upsetting when she was in hospital for Christmas.

"She died in March 2013 and I thought about all the other people in hospital over Christmas.

"I would love for it to go nationwide. I'd like for kids across the country to collect presents and deliver to schools in their area."

By Alex Ballinger

Courtney will be delivering the first sleigh full of presents to Helen and Douglas House hospice in Oxford's Magdalen Road on Tuesday and rest of the charities in the lead up to Christmas.

This year the presents will also be going to Sobell House hospice, the Special Care Baby Unit at Oxford's John Radcliffe Hospital, The Meadows care home in Didcot and a range of others.

Presents are donated to Courtney's cause from the community and companies with Didcot Netball Club donating a range of gifts on Monday. Club member Cath Rose said: "Courtney and her charity are so inspirational. Making our small collection was something we all wanted to contribute to."

This year Courtney is holding a wrapping event for members of the community to help wrap presents on December 13.

Courtney, who suffered from chronic fatigue syndrome, added: "It's lovely when you drop the presents off. You get people crying. There's a smile on their faces."

Last year a woman from America heard about Courtney's cause through Twitter and donated hand-made gifts.

Suspicious package

OXFORD: A suspicious package caused the closure of a street in Oxford city centre on Tuesday.

Thames Valley Police were called to Speedwell Street just after 9am to reports of a suspicious package found on a bus.

Police spokesperson Anne Tugwell said: "The bus was evacuated and Speedwell Street closed temporarily.

"The package was found to be a bag which had been left on the bus, and did not contain anything suspicious."

The incident was dealt with and the street reopened later the same day.

GBH arrests

OXFORD: Two people have been arrested after a man was struck with a stick and hit by a car in Railway Lane on Saturday at around 8.30pm.

A man and woman, both 30, were arrested on Sunday and bailed until January 16.

School training

OXON: Thames Valley Police is looking to offer voluntary scheme to train staff at supplementary schools in the county.

The scheme will offer support and training to people running the schools and will offer accreditation identifying them as a trusted school.

Uni study finds girls less confident in job ambition

SIXTH-FORM girls are less confident about their job prospects than boys their age, a new study from Oxford University has shown.

After a survey of 3,698 sixth-formers from 63 schools and colleges, the research found girls' career ambitions are more influenced by lifestyle factors and finding a 'worthwhile' job.

While boys tend to look at higher-paid salaries as their main focus for careers, girls were found to have shown greater anxiety about their ability to land a good job.

The study also found that 56 per cent of boys and 75 per cent of girls think men receive higher pay in their jobs after university.

On a scale of 1 to 6 (with 6 being the most confident), girls average 3.7 and boys average 4.3 when asked to rate their personal job prospects after university.

Jonathan Black, director of the Oxford University Career Service, said: "We surveyed sixth form students after identifying gender as the single biggest factor in whether graduates from top universities secured a graduate-level job.

"Our research has confirmed that gender-based differences in career confidence start early. Girls may be self-limiting their choice of careers, especially because the types of jobs they seek often have informal entry processes, such as via internships."

The university's careers service is developing a confidence programme called Ignite that is being trialed in schools.

Mr Black added: "This has the knock-on effect that girls may be self-limiting their choice of careers.

"We are exploring ways to intervene and equip school pupils to improve their career confidence."

Ignite aims to help pupils develop assertiveness and confidence in and out of school so they think more about their future.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service. "Our product is simple. If you double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole."

Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. "The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated."

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Chimney fire

BURFORD: Firefighters used special equipment to monitor a chimney fire in a village near Burford on Sunday morning.

A log burner in the reception room of the home in Fulbrook had been on the previous day and the homeowners noticed strange noises and high temperatures in the chimney.

Using thermal imaging cameras and an extendible 'snake eye' camera to identify the blaze, the fire and rescue service decided to monitor the situation and wait.

Firefighters returned to the scene three times that morning until they were happy the fire was extinguished.

Plans revised

OXFORD: Botley residents have another chance to comment on a supplementary planning document that sets out plans for new development around West Way shopping area.

Vale of White Horse District Council has made changes to the document after a public consultation, which ended on September 25.

The council deferred a decision to adopt the document last month after a legal challenge from the West Way Community Concern group.

The new consultation will be open until December 18.

Huge rise in flashing incidents 'troubling'

By Loughlan Campbell

AN 80 per cent rise in the number of cases across Oxfordshire of people flashing genitals has been dubbed 'troubling' by the head of an Oxford campaign group.

A Freedom of Information request sent by the Guardian to Thames Valley Police revealed there were 113 incidents of intentional exposure of genitals in the county reported from September 2014 to August this year.

This is up from just 23 the year before.

• Oxford's LPA Commander Supt Christian Bunt

The co-chair of Oxford sexual violence campaign group It Happens Here, Tiana Dias, said: "The sharp increase in the number of cases is troubling and shows a real societal issue."

But Thames Valley Police's local police area (LPA) commander for Oxford, Supt Christian Bunt, said relatively the figures are still low.

"We are aware of the increase on the previous years' figures," he explained.

"But the numbers are still very low for an area the size of Oxfordshire."

"We investigate all reports of exposure very thoroughly because we understand they can be very distressing to the victim."

Supt Bunt added police put extra patrols in areas where they are seeing repeat offences.

The figures also revealed that between last September to August this year, 21 arrests were made for public nuisance for indecent exposure with five charged so far.

This was up from nine arrests the year before, with five charged.

Ms Dias said: "Harassment of this nature is not often addressed and so we need to more to educate the general public about the nuances of consent to avoid a further spike in the number of these cases."

Rowers are banned for two years

TWO Oxford Brookes University rowers have been suspended from all sport for two years after testing positive for banned drugs.

Sybren Hoogland, 21 and Timothy Grant, 22, of Oxford Brookes University Boat Club tested positive for stimulants after tests at the Ghent International Regatta in Belgium on May 9 this year.

Benzoyllecgonine, a metabolite of cocaine, showed up in Hoogland's system. He will be banned from all sport until May 8, 2017.

Grant, who rowed for the Great Britain u23 squad, tested positive for a nerve stimulant called modafinil, known to increase concentration and focus. He will be banned until June 3, 2017.

Nicole Sapstead, Chief Executive of UK Anti-Doping, confirmed the bans on Friday and said: "Hoogland and Grant are two young athletes who clearly made the wrong choices in their personal lives."

"The consequence of those choices is that they have damaged their sporting careers and their reputations."

"Both athletes have been through extensive anti-doping education but their decisions to ignore the advice they were given has resulted in two-year bans from all sport."

Oxford lights the way to Christmas

A LANTERN parade of around 180 schoolchildren taking in the city's famous sites was the centre piece of the Friday's Oxford Christmas Light Festival 2015.

The parade came after dancers drummed up festive excitement at 6pm in the grounds of Oxford Castle with an LED umbrella light show.

At 6.30pm the children's lantern parade saw students from eight Oxford primary schools strut their handmade lanterns down New Inn Hall Street through the centre accompanied by brass bands.

Pupil at St Andrew's Primary, Orla Smyth, 10, said: "I'm excited and I'm a little bit nervous being watched by everyone. It was really fun making the lanterns."

Woodfarm Primary School's headteacher Tim Lewin said: "It's really exciting for them to be out in town at night. Our school is in one of the estate areas of Headington so it's exciting to be here with the other schools."

The procession left Wesley Memorial Church and finished in Broad Street.

Crowds in Broad Street were then treated to a 15-minute light show, by Anomic Multimedia, projected on to the side of the Clarendon Building.

A scale model of the building set up in front of the Sheldonian Theatre gave people the chance to wave a wand over the model to illuminate parts of the real Clarendon Building.

Oxford City Council's head of culture, Peter McQuitty, said: "I think this could be the best light festival of them all."

"It's energetic, it's imaginative. It's always great seeing the kids with the lanterns."

Oxford's museums also joined in the fun with Museum of the History of Science in Broad Street hosting activities and music inspired by light.

The Ashmolean Museum in Beaumont Street hosted choirs, and gave youngsters the chance to make dragon and butterfly masks, while the Pitt Rivers Museum in Parks Road was plunged into darkness to let visitors explore by torchlight.

Lord Mayor of Oxford, Rae Humberstone, said: "It's a nice way to start of Christmas. It's an Oxford way of doing things."

Bosses back bed blocking scheme

OXFORDSHIRE health leaders unveiled a new plan to get patients who are well enough out of hospital and into care homes last week.

Oxfordshire County Council's (OCC) health boss has backed the scheme, which would move patients to care homes to stay for up to eight weeks receiving health and social care before they can be transferred home.

Around 150 patients currently in Oxfordshire hospitals would be eligible.

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust chief executive, Bruno Holthof, said: "It is really important our patients are able to leave hospital as soon as they are clinically fit to do so and no longer need acute care.

By Alex Ballinger

"Patients who are ready to leave hospital but who are delayed in doing so can, over a sustained period of time, become dependent on inpatient care.

"This plan supports our joint aims that patients who are medically fit, are transferred to a more appropriate environment for their care needs, while helping to increase our bed availability."

The scheme was unveiled last Wednesday by the Trust.

The trust said there are 120 patients in Oxford's John Radcliffe hospital, the Nuffield Orthopaedic Centre and in Banbury's Horton General Hospital waiting to move on to the next stage of their care, with a further 20 in Oxfordshire's community hospitals.

The plan aims to relieve pressure at hospitals by freeing up beds.

OCC's cabinet member for adult social care, Judith Heathcoat, said: "Oxfordshire County Council believes the health service pilot could be a good way to tackle a long standing problem in Oxfordshire, and we will review progress over the winter.

"We know discharging people from acute hospitals as soon as they are medically ready is the best thing as it reduces their chance of hospital infections and losing their independence."

Oxfordshire Clinical Commissioning Group (OCCG) has set aside £2 million for the scheme.

Patients are to be moved to 15 different care homes early next month.

OCCG's chief executive, David Smith, said: "There is a need to take radical action prior to winter to improve the flow of patients."

Tails left wagging on rehoming centre tour

• Mal Green (left) and Jim Dunn with Max and Pepsi

IT takes two to coax new owners for abandoned dogs in time for Christmas.

So Pepsi and Max were at hand to give Abingdon residents a glimpse of the kinds of dogs up for adoption at the Dogs Trust.

The charity's 'dogmobile' stopped off in Market Place last Wednesday and Thursday.

Terrier-cross Pepsi and collie-cross Max are around 11 years old and are looking for a new home together.

They are being looked after in the meantime by Dogs Trust in Newbury.

The dogmobile travels around the country once a year.

Dogmobile manager Mal Green said: "We're here to answer any questions and introduce people to Max and Pepsi.

"People looking for a dog can go to our centre in Newbury and pick their favourite. There's no pressure, you can just look around."

New state-of-the-art hospital unit opens

A WOMAN who is allergic to water is just one John Radcliffe Hospital patient suffering from a rare illness to benefit from a new specialised blood treatment centre.

The Therapeutic Apheresis Services (TAS) unit, for cutting edge treatment to people with rare disorders, officially opened on Thursday.

The facility is one of seven units of its kind in the country where treatments at the centre is administered by apheresis, in which the blood is separated into different components before being removed or being treated and removed or being returned to the patient.

Nikki Hurst, 47, from Buckinghamshire, has a condition called Aquagenic Pruritus causing Urticaria, which means she experiences agonising pain whenever her skins comes into contact with water.

She said: "It feels like millions of hot needles are being stabbed into your skin. The treatment here has given me my life back."

If Ms Hurst drinks water or gets caught in the rain, she is in pain for hours. The unit will provide her treatment, which involves removing and replacing her blood plasma every five weeks.

Sam Ovuorie, 19, from Banbury, suffers from a life threatening blood disorder, sickle cell anaemia.

The condition means his red blood cells form into a sickle-like shape, stopping them move around his body.

By Loughlan Campbell

This deprives his body of blood and oxygen which leads to episodes known as a sickle cell crisis.

He said: "The pain can be excruciating when I suffer from a crisis. It feels like every single bone in your body is being broken repeatedly. It just hits you everywhere."

Sam found out he had the disorder when he was five but has not suffered from a crisis in five years thanks to hospital treatment.

His treatment was carried out in other areas of the hospital but will now be done in the new unit.

Government life sciences minister, George Freeman, said: "This is truly a twenty-first century NHS facility. It will offer innovative, life-enhancing treatment to NHS patients suffering from devastating rare blood disorders."

The TAS unit relocated from an existing unit on the same site into a purpose built facility last September and renovation work on the unit has just been completed. There are four treatment beds in the unit accompanied by a machine called an extracorporeal photopheresis system which carry out the apheresis technique.

Oxfordshire patients who needed to have treatments from these machines would previously have had to travel to London to have their treatment.

Double cancer victim has been through 'hell'

A CARTERTON man treated at the new blood treatment unit at the John Radcliffe Hospital has spoken of his 'cancer hell' over the last 14 years.

Michael Nolan, 41, has been cared for at the old unit over the last couple of months before it opened its new base last Thursday.

The 41-year-old is battling his most recent fight with cancer.

He discovered he had blood cancer non-Hodgkin lymphoma in 2001, which he fought off in 2004 after three years of treatment.

But in 2013 he went to his doctors after a car crash and discovered he had acute myeloid leukaemia.

Mr Nolan said: "I just felt a bit more ill than I should have been and I just thought there's got to be an anomaly here."

"When I discovered I'd got cancer again, it was truly frightening for me. It felt like it would never be completely over for me."

After being diagnosed in November 2013, he underwent chemotherapy for a third time and had a stem cell transplant.

• Michael Nolan, 41

Mr Nolan relapsed in November last year and has since undergone multiple lymphocyte infusions as he moves closer towards remission once more.

He added: "I'm not a negative person and my family has really kept me going. The cancer has been hell but I won't let it get me down. I've got to keep thinking positive."

Win tickets to Guys and Dolls at the Savoy Theatre

NATHAN Detroit is desperate: he needs money for an illegal dice game, and he needs it fast.

Not to mention a 14 year engagement with night-club singer Miss Adelaide whose patience is finally running out. Enter notorious gambler Sky Masterson, a guy who can never turn down a bet, and straight-laced missionary Sarah Brown, a doll with a heart of ice. The wager: Sky has to romance Sarah by taking her to Havana for dinner and in return he'll provide a dozen 'sinners' for Sarah's mission. Surely this is one bet Nathan absolutely can't lose?

The sizzling New York tale of gamblers, gangsters and nightclub singers will leave you 'walking on air' (Daily Telegraph) with a glorious evening featuring some of Broadway's greatest show-stopping tunes, including Luck Be a Lady, Sit Down You're Rockin' the Boat and My Time of Day. With dazzling choreography by world-renowned Cuban ballet star Carlos Acosta and Andrew Wright

Closing date: Friday, Dec 18th

(Singin' in the Rain and Barnum), and direction from New York's Gordon Greenberg, this 'production leaves the whole audience purring with pleasure'. (Times) This is one feel-good show you won't want to miss.

A cast and orchestra of over 40 is led by Sophie Thompson as the long-suffering Miss Adelaide, David Haig as Nathan with Jamie Parker reprising his terrific Sky Masterson and Siubhan Harrison as the pious Salvation Army sergeant, Sarah Brown.

We have two pairs of tickets to this great show and to be in with a chance of winning one just answer the following question:

Q: This production of Guys and Dolls comes to the West End after a sell-out season at which theatre? The Chichester Festival Theatre, Southwark Playhouse or Leicester Curve Theatre?

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called “boxes”, “blocks”, “regions”, or “sub-squares”) contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

...Big Mouth Strikes Again

ECCENTRIC Scotsman Hardeep Singh Kohli will be at The Old Fire Station in Oxford tomorrow night, November 27.

He is stopping off at the George Street venue during a UK tour with his show 'Big Mouth Strikes Again'.

And the comedian, writer, broadcaster and journalist counts himself over and above all, a narrator.

"I'm a storyteller," he said, "regardless of the medium I tell stories."

"And I don't actually prepare myself before I go out on stage!"

"Me onstage is just an extension of me in real life, and how do you prepare for real life?"

After leaving university, Hardeep has dipped in and out of various jobs in the media and entertainment.

On joining the BBC in the '90s, he worked as a director for a number of children's television shows whilst also overseeing Janet Street-Porter's show, 'Reportage'.

Since leaving the corporation in 1996, the 46-year-old has worked writing for national newspapers, starring in television shows, presenting radio programmes and creating comedy shows, which have been showcased at many Edinburgh Festivals.

By James Richings

"Broadcasting had an exotic attraction since I was wee," Hardeep said.

"I knew that's what I was going to do when I finished university, but I never wanted to be in front of camera - although it inevitably happened, and comedy followed shortly after."

And with this being the comic's last show of his three month autumn tour, Hardeep hopes to end the run of shows on a high in Oxford.

"I love making folk laugh, making them forget their worries and giving them sore sides," he said.

"Ultimately it's about community and connecting with people. Comedy is a shared experience and it's humbling to be part of that."

"Also, everyone can expect a raucous, fun story telling plus laughter, love and other stuff that begins with 'L'."

"It's a new show and I love doing it."

Doors open at 7.45pm and tickets cost £12.

Damn Good Reason to be in Witney this weekend

COVERS band Damn Good Reason is performing at The Elm Tree pub in Witney on Saturday, November 28.

Benjamin 'Sideshow' Turner as vocalist and percussionist, Jon 'Guitar' Davies and Byrne 'The Bolt' Norry on guitars, bassist Danny 'Double' Dymond and drummer Alex Broda are gearing up for their penultimate gig of the year.

The five friends will be performing well-known hits from the likes of AC/DC, The Rolling Stones, Lynyrd Skynyrd, The Who, ZZ Top and many more.

"Having an audience that is into what you're playing whilst having a good time makes a huge difference for any band, I think," Jon told the Guardian.

"When we can see a crowd really enjoying what we're doing it makes us all raise our game and our performance, so the audience gets more pleasure out of it and we get more out of it, too.

"It becomes something that both the band and the crowd are contributing to and it just grows - that's a fantastic feeling."

By James Richings

Between the five of them, the part-time performers work in construction, graphic design and telecoms by day, and become Mick Jagger sound-alikes by night.

Jon said: "We are a fairly diverse bunch of guys who just turn into noisy rockers at night, like vampires."

But the band has a bigger mission on their minds.

"The opportunity to hear and see live music when you're young can be so inspiring, even life-changing, and can offer a world of future opportunities," he said.

"It's not just the music itself, either. It is the sound, lights, atmosphere, the people and the venue that can combine to become magical.

"Music is a great way to achieve and grow as an individual or as part of a team"

"It can't get much better than that, can it?"

The free gig starts from 8.30pm at the pub in West End.

Rock and Roll

A NIGHT of classic rock and roll will take over The Black Horse in Kidlington this Saturday, November 28.

Notcutts Garden Centre in Nuneham Courtenay, Oxfordshire ran a competition within their store to win a seat with Santa, which means they get to ride in the carriage with Santa when he arrives.

The lucky winner was 5 year old Jacob Cottrell from Wallingford, who drew the best Festive drawing in this years competition. He is pictured above with his parents and Santa.

Jacob was made up with his prize and really enjoyed travelling with Santa. Around 400 people turned out to watch Santa arrive, the weather was very kind to us and although cold was "dry and bright" said the stores General Manager Jonathan Tew. Santa had a great reception from the kids and he greeted as many as possible personally before entering his grotto. The horse drawn carriage went down really well with lots of people stroking and making a fuss of the horses.

Island Farm Donkey sanctuary also attended who brought along some donkeys and they collected for their charity. Oxford Brass band also attended and played lots of Christmas music to make the whole occasion feel more festive.

Santa's grotto is open every weekend between now and Christmas between 10.30 and 4pm and costs £7.50 per child, who gets to spend quality time with Santa and receives a lovely present from him.

We are also running Breakfasts and Teas with Santa going forward, which can be booked on our website www.notcutts.co.uk and then select Oxford Garden centre.

A tale of technology and internal conflict

• Leo Mercer

EVERYTHING had been going well for Calam until his girlfriend suddenly breaks up with him.

Following the split he questions himself about whether he has misunderstood everything that he previously thought was important.

Student playwright Leo Mercer pieces Calam's life together using internet-inspired texts to fashion an insightful psychological portrait of a man whose life is split between online and offline.

The play, titled 'Onlife', will be at the Oxford Playhouse from Tuesday, December 1, until Saturday, December 5.

"This is a one-man show, but fortunately I am not that one man," Leo told the Guardian.

"I am working with a wonderful actor called Felix von Strumm, who is far abler than me to bring the complexities and nuances of the character to life.

"When he acts, I really feel for the character he portrays."

The production is making its theatrical debut at the Beaumont Street venue next Tuesday.

It deals with conflicts very apt for the way most people now live.

'Onlife' is the second show Leo has written that has gone into production.

The Mancunian born, Oxford-based playwright and poet hopes to spark a sense of awareness with the audience leaving at the end of the night.

The play brings themes of politics, gender, sexuality, and technology to the fold.

"I wanted to raise the question of whether it is healthy or not to live our lives so split between online and offline," Leo said.

"The answer I think I came to was that we don't have to see it like that: actually, all online things are quite natural.

"If the internet wasn't possible within the laws of nature, then there would be no internet, as technology is just what happens when humans help nature realise its potential.

"If we think like that, then we can feel much more whole and not split between a real world and an unreal world."

He added: "The audience will be surprised that a play which is all about technology, has, as a hard rule, no technology on stage.

"When writing the play I asked myself, 'Can I say something about the experience of being an obsessive user of technology without actually having a single phone or laptop on stage?'"

"I don't want to spoil the story, but the play ends up touching on some quite political issues."

Tickets cost £6, and all five shows start at 7.30pm.

Live: Vant @ The Bullingdon

THE best live bands are those that are unpredictable in the way they approach their crowds.

You come to sing along, but you want to see something that you can harken back to when blaring out the riffs in your car.

And Vant are the kind of band that demands you remember them.

Frontman Mattie Vant owns the stage unlike most leading men as he strolls along the front, staring into the crowd's eyes with the look of a wild animal.

In their 45-minute set at The Bullingdon, the rockers didn't let up for a second as they continuously pummelled their angsty take on modern rock into the hyped-up gathering.

Songs like 'The Answer' and 'Parking Lot' were thrown out with youthful aggression and demanding adrenaline to a student-filled crowd who'd nestled in to the small venue to get their sights on one of the county's upcoming rock acts.

The energy was infectious and the music coasted through the crowd, warming everyone up on a cold evening.

The highlight of the set came when the frontman leaped out into the crowd, who made space, to shred out his guitar solo midway through a track of the upcoming album.

By Loughlan Campbell

The crowd parted like the Red Sea whilst the unhinged guitarist soared around in a circle whilst fans egged him on and bopped their heads.

Vant made it clear to their audience that they are a young band, having only formed last year. But after receiving premieres on BBC Radio 1 over the last couple of months, there was an aura of excitement amongst the crowd that this band might be 'the next big thing' in a year's time.

The London-band were striking, relentless but most importantly, unforgettable.

This was a gig that budding fans would hark back to their friends that 'they were there' and time will only tell how much of a statement that will be with the band slowly creeping their way up the industry's ladders.

New Citroëns hit the market

CITROËN'S new DS4 and DS4 Crossback have been launched onto the market.

The pair became ready to buy this month after having been unveiled at Frankfurt Motor Show in September.

The DS4, based on a Citroen C4 and other SUVs, is 30mm higher than its predecessor.

It comes in nine colours to choose from including three new colours; tourmaline orange, artense grey and platinum grey.

While the DS4's roof, rear spoiler, door mirrors and hub caps come in four options of perla nera black, whisper purple, virtual blue or tourmaline orange.

The DS4 is the first car in the Citroën DS series to have an Apple CarPlay encompassing a music system, to answer incoming phone calls and see messages through an Apple device.

The DS4 Crossback is also 30mm higher than its previous hatchback version, and has freshly designed wheel arch trims, grey roof bars and black door mirrors, sills and carpet mats with the car.

"The brand's spirit is expressed through an offering made up of two body styles: a new premium hatchback and an unprecedented new offer: the DS4 Crossback, with its elegant go-anywhere style," DS Automobiles CEO, Yves Bonnefont said.

"With such complementary vehicles, the DS brand is clearly stating its ambition and its ability to meet the customer's expectations."

They both have more intimidating and fierce looks with a new grille design, and fresh LED vision headlamps.

And the engines have CO2 emissions between 100g/km and 138g/km.

Inside, both cars have door panels in Nappa leather and semi-aniline leather upholstery with a signature 'watch strap' design exclusive to DS cars.

More than 115,000 DS4s have been sold worldwide since its launch in 2011.

Hoban rescues United in tight Newport draw

OXFORD United missed the chance to go top of League Two after they were held to a 1-1 draw by a valiant Newport County side at the Kassam Stadium on Tuesday night.

The Welsh side had taken the lead thanks to a jaw-dropping 30-yard curler from forward Lenell John-Lewis putting the side ahead just before the half-time whistle.

However, United roared back and managed to find themselves an equaliser through Patrick Hoban who fired home in the box with nearly 15 minutes to play.

County held on to secure the draw which makes it eight unbeaten games for John Sheridan's side and United missed the chance to go top after Plymouth drew with Leyton Orient.

The Yellows dominated possession from the kick-off and Alex MacDonald drew a smart save from 'keeper Joe Day after six minutes.

The winger, buzzing with confidence, then performed a delightful bit of skill, turning inside his man before placing a shot just wide of the post.

United's bubble was burst

By Loughlan Campbell

in some style on 43 minutes as Tommy O'Sullivan cut the ball inside and John-Lewis deliciously curled in a stunning opener from 30 yards leaving Benji Buchel helpless in the United goal.

Hoban came on for Ryan Taylor at the break and United saw a chance scuppered as Callum O'Dowda broke into the far side of the box but his shot was wide of the post.

Another chance then came for Hoban to have a shot blocked in the box after being played in by George Baldock across the box.

The Irish forward had another effort blocked by Day shortly afterwards before finding the net on 72 minutes.

O'Dowda made the run down the left wing before placing it in to Kemar Roofs with the forward teeing it up for Hoban who skilfully fired it home.

Roofs then had a shot blocked from just inside the box as United searched for the winner but Newport held on for what was a valuable point for them and United stay second in the table.

Cattell gets his first Wantage win of season

WANTAGE Town jumped out of the relegation zone in the Southern League Division One South & West following a 1-0 win over Marlow on Saturday.

The Freds hosted the Buckinghamshire-side in a game that led to interim manager Stuart Cattell's first win in charge.

The first half saw each side provide their fair share of chances but neither side was making much headway.

The best chance of the half fell to star striker Ben Whitehead who, totally unmarked, mistimed his jump to head a cross and the ball sailed over the bar.

The Freds got their goal shortly into the second half with Marlow failing to clear a ball that was sent into the box and Aaron Ferris darted in from the right wing and slotted the ball home.

Wantage should have then had a second with Nick Thorne beating his marker and squaring the ball for Whitehead who got the ball trapped between his feet.

James Glover then had an effort, which was poised for the top left corner, palmed away by Marlow's keeper.

The Freds managed to hold on for the rest of the match for their first win in five games.

Chapman gets racing promotion to the GT5 Challenge for 2016

AN Oxford racing driver will spearhead Total Control Racing's bid in the Protire Motorsport GT5 Challenge title in 2016 following two seasons in the Ginetta Junior Championship.

Chapman has been with TCR for two years and makes the step up to the GT5 Challenge following the conclusion of the season with a podium finish in the Brands Hatch Grand Prix.

The deal is viewed as a 'graduation' by the driver who was plagued by misfortune with his car last season and just managed to grab a top 10 championship finish.

Chapman said: "I've learnt so much with Total Control over the last couple of years and they've all done a great job in the GT5 Challenge so I'm excited to start to focus and prepare as much as possible."

The 16-year-old joins a team that have won the GT5 Challenge title for the last two seasons in a row.

Total Control Racing boss, Lee Brookes, said: "Matt was much quicker in Juniors this year and the end results showed, he had so much bad luck but his race pace was fantastic."

"When we tested him in the challenge car he was quicker than we expected actually, so that has given us all a lot of confidence we can go for the championship for a third straight year."

The season begins next March.

City given the winter chills in 2-1 shock loss

A LAST-MINUTE goal saw Oxford City fall to a consecutive home defeat on a bitterly cold Saturday afternoon clash with Gosport Borough.

By Loughlan Campbell

The 2-1 defeat means the Blues have only won one of their last five, with their league form slipping as they fell to third in the Conference South table.

City's Darren Pond had put his side in front early on in the first half before Roman Vine made the scores level and Justin Bennett got the winner in the 88th minute to condemn Oxford to the defeat.

The Blues were explosive in their attacking play in the opening minutes and Pond's goal came on 8 minutes after he slotted the ball home following great work by Declan Benjamin. Oxford's lead lasted just 12 minutes before Gosport responded as the away side won a free kick halfway into the City half.

The ball was whipped in and Oxford failed to clear it leading to Vine turning the ball into the net after it ricocheted off the bar.

Gosport then had a penalty shout turned down by the referee in the 40th minute and forward George Baker was given a yellow card for diving.

The beginning of the second half saw the temperatures begin to creep up on the players but City managed to keep good hold of possession.

The goalmouth action crept back into the game in the last 10 minutes as City bombarded the Gosport goal with shot after shot but 'keeper Ashmore kept the ball out.

His heroics paid dividends for the away side as Gosport managed to secure a winner with two minutes to play after he converted a ball that was whipped into the area from the right.

The result was a sucker punch to Justin Merritt's side who deserved more from the game and travel to Eastbourne Borough next Saturday as they hope to get to grips with their wavering league form.

Sport Bites

Non-league round up

FOOTBALL: Thame United qualified to the next round of the OFA senior cup third round with a 3-1 win over Hook Norton at the ASM Stadium.

Ardley United also joined them after beating Kidlington Old Boy's in the same round at the Playing Fields on Saturday.

Also in the cup, Oxford City Nomads dispatched Eynsham Association 6-1 in a thrashing at Marsh Lane.

Tough win

HOCKEY: Oxford Hockey Club's men's first's beat off icy conditions to win 3-2 over Wallingford's first's in a tight encounter in the MBBO Regional 1 on Saturday.

Brandon Lee, Dan Smyth and a deflected Johnny Campbell pass got the goals for Oxford who came back into the game later on.

Meanwhile, the ladies' first's were beaten by London Wayfarer's 1st team 1-0 but the second's beat Aylesbury's first's 3-0.

Rugby signing

RUGBY: Oxford RL announced the signing of London Broncos academy player Charlie Green for their upcoming 2016 season.

Green played for the first team in a couple of games last season and is currently a student at St Mary's College at Oxford University.

He said: "I'm pleased that I'm staying in Oxford and to develop under Tim's [Rumford, head coach] leadership."

Swimmers qualify for finals

AN impressive all-round performance from City of Oxford swimming club saw them qualify for the National Arena League Premier Division South final in the second round in Crawley.

Over the 50 events, Oxford grabbed 22 first places, 13 second place and seven third place finishes.

The results mean that the club finished first overall with 245 points altogether, eclipsing the other five teams with Beck-enham the nearest to them, scoring 199 points.

Fabian Whitbread secured a first place finish in the men's open 100m backstroke and a second place finish in the men's open 200m individual medley.

Evie Mclean secured a first and a second place finish in the girl's 10/11 years 50m backstroke and in the 50m breaststroke race.

Ralph Cooke was also amongst the Oxford winners, winning the same event for the boys whilst Natasha Fenton and Billy Wootton triumphed in the respective 13 & under 100m breaststroke category for girls and boys.

Ewan Springett picked up a first place finish in the 15 & under 100m butterfly and 100m open freestyle events.

The club is set to take part in the final on December 12 at Crawley alongside five other clubs.

Rider wins top spot in eventing

AN Oxfordshire rider took the top spot in the final of the Pony Club Open Eventing League last month.

Honor Barker, based in Great Rollright, near Chipping Norton, finished on 21 points as a result, five points ahead of runner-up Katherine Mason who won the league in 2014.

The Heythrop branch rider, who rode horse Lismany Lad, said: "We've had an amazing season and winning the league was a fantastic way for it to end."

She also thanked Lismany Lad's owner Chloe O'Kane and her trainer Simon Lawrence stating: "I would not have been able to do it with their support, I'm now very excited for the future."

As part of her prize, the rider will have a training day with 4* professional event rider, Bill Levett.

Honor had also previously competed at the Weatherbys

Private Banking Pony Club Championships earlier this year and came 5th in her section of the Stonar Eventing Championships.

Mason finished five points behind Barker with 10 riders competing in the final that saw riders come from all over the country to take part in the prestigious event that took place on October 19.

Honor has previously ridden for Oxford Riding Club.

Raiders strike late blow to Stars

OXFORD City Stars were well-matched and beaten 2-1 by Wightlink Raiders in an enticing game at Oxpens Road on Saturday.

Stars came out all guns blazing, chasing every puck and harrowing the Raiders when they were in possession.

Wightlink opened the scoring in the first period with a powerplay goal, after Ryan Webb finished a move that was set up by Jeroslav Cesky and Jordan Gregory.

The Stars looked to get back into the game but were unable to capitalise on winning a powerplay following Jeremy Cornish being sat out for two minutes for interference.

The rest of the half and second period saw both sides go close on multiple occasions with Oxford looking to get a way back into the game.

With around four minutes left to play in the third period Oxford managed to scramble the ball past Matthew Colclough with Joe Edwards grabbing the goal after good work from Josh Florey.

Just a minute later and Wightlink retook the lead after Oxford's netminder dived forward leaving the goal exposed and Webb placed the ball into the net following the assist by Cesky.

The Stars remain in fourth in the NIHL South 1 with 17 points.

They will face the London Raiders on Saturday in a top-of-the-table clash.

Ref blunders cost Millers in draw

NORTH Leigh had two goals ruled out for offside in a contentious affair at Eynsham Park on Saturday as the Millers drew 1-1 with Yate Town.

Jon Else put the Millers in front with just two minutes under the clock after a Kieran Sanders cross was rebounded to the Leigh player who stroked it home from close range.

Yate flew back into the contest and got their equaliser after 31 minutes when Brett Towbridge hit a shot from 8 yards past the Leigh keeper to level the scores.

The West Oxfordshire side had their first disallowed goal after 39 minutes of play when Sanders' header was ruled out for offside.

On the stroke of half-time, Leigh were then denied a goal once more after the Yate keeper dropped the ball as he wanted to catch it and Jamie Cook played the ball into the net with the referee claiming Cook kicked it out of Martin Horsell's hands.

There were few clear cut chances in the second half as both teams looked to find a winner with Callum McNish going wide after fashioning a good opportunity.

The Millers were up against high-flying Evesham United in a tussle at Eynsham Park in the Southern Football League as the Oxfordshire Guardian went to print last night.

GROSJEAN'S LAST RACE FOR LOTUS

• Romain Grosjean races for Lotus for the last time on Sunday (picture courtesy of Lotus F1)

ROMAIN Grosjean will be looking for a strong result in his last race for Enstone-based Lotus F1 in the season finale at Abu Dhabi on Sunday.

The Frenchman has driven for Lotus since 2012 and also contested the last half of the 2009 season for the team – then named Renault – but heads off to race for Haas F1 from the start of 2016.

By Adam Flinn

And having finished in the points in the last two races, Grosjean will be looking to make up the three point difference to Force India driver Nico Hulkenberg for 10th in the drivers' championship standings.

He said: "The engine will be turned up to 11, I'll be racing my heart out and I know all the guys and girls at Enstone want to see a great end to the season."

"I've shared so many good and also so many character-building times through my years at Enstone, so we'll have some good laughs," he added.

"Before I leave Enstone I will make a visit to the factory to see all the people I've worked with over so many years.

"I'm sure that will be an emotional day."

Pastor Maldonado will also be on the hunt for a decent finish to what has been a mixed season for the Venezuelan.

Retirements blighted the first half of Maldonado's season, but he has finished the last six races and scored points in four of them, including last time out in Brazil.

He said: "Abu Dhabi is always a special event and being the final race of the year makes it all the more exciting."

"The first sector at the circuit stands out with turns two, three and four being particularly enjoyable and the final sector is pretty eye-catching."

Sunday's race starts at 1pm.
